Those producers that will have a lien stamped on their card will be notified to come to the ASCS office to pick up their cards. Producers that did not return the postcard certifying as to the use of DDT, TDE, toxaphene or Endrin and whether or not Maryland tobacco was grown will need to come by the ASCS office and fill out the card before picking up their marketing card.

Do you have a conservation problem on your farm that needs to be solved? If you do, stop by the ASCS office at your earliest convenience and check on the program.

The program is set up to share the cost with farmers in solving conservation problems which exist on the farm.

The following is a list of the practices and cost-share rates offered:

Cost-sharing from 50 to 75 percent can sure some money for the farmer and the practices listed above are ones that can help the farm be a more productive one.

Some additional information and facts concerning the program are as follows:

1. Soil samples will be required to be submitted for seeding and fertilizing practices (SL-1, SL-2). The samples should be brought in when the application is filed.

2. Applications must be approved before the practice is started to be eligible for cost-shares.

Book Fair-Student Program For PTA Are Planned For American Education Week - (Nov. 11-16)

The week of Nov. 12-16 marks the 60th anniversary celebration of Children's Book Week. This year's theme is More Books in the Home.

Student teacher at Appomattox Primary School, Mrs. Janice Sandidge, assisted with the preparation and serving of breakfast in the kindergarten on Wednesday. The class has been studying a unit on Food and Nutrition.

The annual Appomattox Primary School Book Fair will be held in conjunction with Children's Book Week. A wide variety of books has been carefully selected with young readers in mind. Your preschoolers and primary students are sure to find titles that appeal to them.

The modest prices will appeal to you. Book prices range from 75 cents to $3.00. With Christmas just around the corner, you will also want to shop for the young readers on your list.

For your shopping convenience the Book Fair hours have been expanded this year to include the following dates and times:

Monday, Nov. 12, 8:00-4:00
P.M.Library, Tuesday, Nov. 13, 8:30-12:00 Noon, Library, Thursday, Nov. 15, 6:30-8:00 P.M., Cafeteria.

Children will also be given the opportunity to bring their money and make their own purchases during Book Fair hours on Tuesday morning. If you would like for your child to make his own purchase, put the amount of money you want him to spend in an envelope and send it to school with him on Tuesday. Parent volunteers will be on hand to help him make his selections with the amount of money he has been given to spend.

Drama Club To Present "Flowers For Algernon"

The award-winning Drama Club of Appomattox County High School is at it again. The students are now busy rehearsing Flowers For Algernon by David Rogers for performance on November 30 and December 1.

Flowers For Algernon was the movie CHARLIE for which Cliff Robertson won an academy award. The play revolves around Charlie Gordon, a retarded man who has a brain operaiton and becomes brilliant. Charlie is haunted by memories of his past, however, and faces many problems. The play comes to a climax when Charlie begins to regress to his previous mental state.

The directors, Debbie Rush and Joyce Sweet, describe the play in this way, "It's the most challenging play we have attempted at A.C.H.S. The succession of short scenes, flashbacks, and multi-leveled set give the show an unusual staging effect. Also, this play calls for tremendous performances from our actors."

Don't miss Flowers For Algernon. It's a play that you'll never forget. See next week's Times-Virginian for more details.
